What is LEAN?
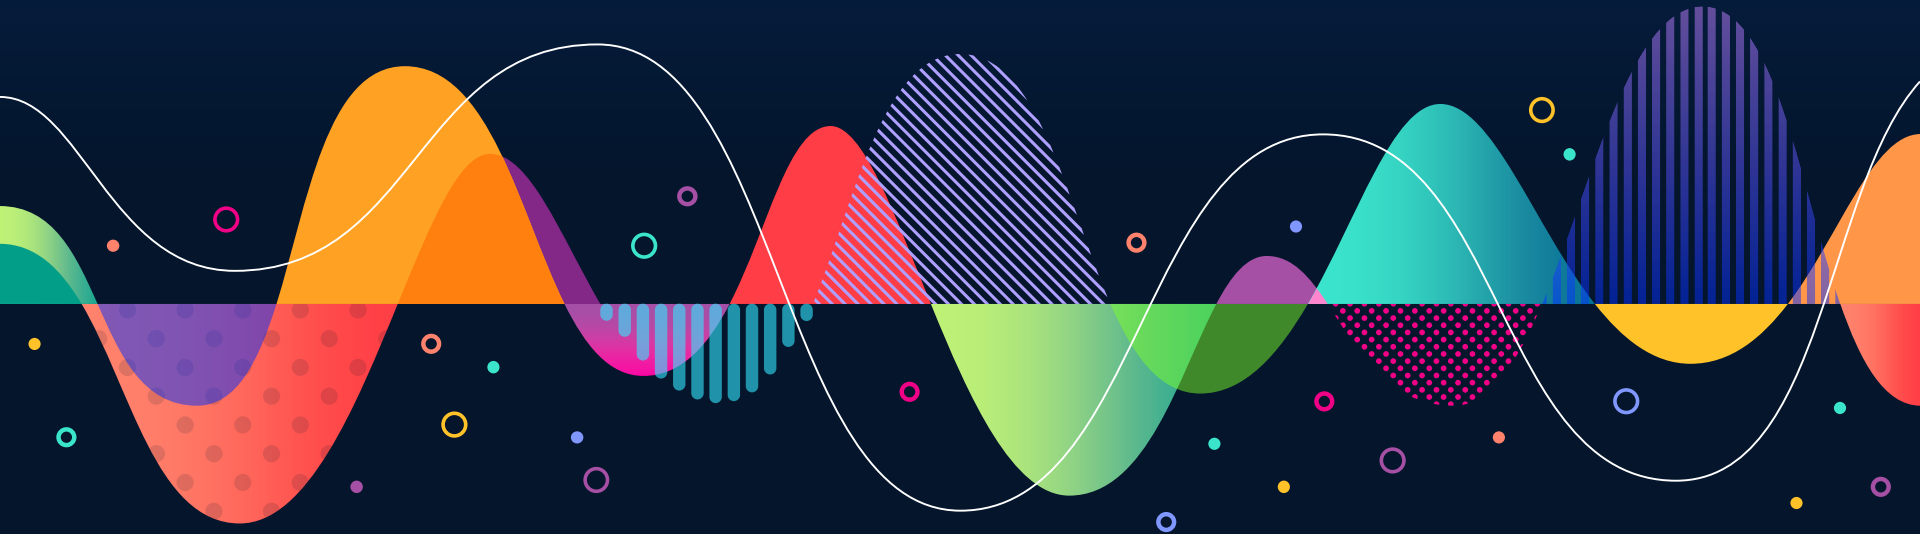

LEAN

Lean manufacturing, or lean production, is a production method derived from Toyota's 1930 operating model "The Toyota Way".

Balanced Lifecard Activity

▷ Livelihood: how you make a living. It encompasses income and activities required to secure the necessities of life.

▷ Wellness: being in good physical, mental, and spiritual health.

▷ Relationship: all of the people that are important to you.

▷ Fun: all of the things you enjoy, including hobbies, crafts, sports and play.

Value stream map

A value stream map is just a process map on steroids. It is a Lean tool to understand a process from a high level down to the small details. A value stream map provides a way to analyze where problems exist - problems with information, communication, cost, time, and quality.

Ideas to incorporate in the library

-a shared google document for student tasks

-all carts/piles of books be labeled so that they don't sit unattended
