

Xavier University of Louisiana

Library

XULA Digital Commons

XULA Digital Commons is an open-access repository maintained by Xavier University of Louisiana Library to showcase, preserve, and provide access to scholarly and creative work from the Xavier community.

Dissertation Submission Agreement

I agree to grant Xavier University of Louisiana Library a non-exclusive license to provide online open access to my submitted dissertation in XULA Digital Commons.

(The Author retains all copyright of the work, but gives the library permission to make it available online for anyone to read, and to preserve it in XULA Digital Commons.)

I warrant as follows:

1. I hold the copyright to this work, and agree to permit this work to be posted at XULA Digital Commons (<http://digitalcommons.xula.edu>)
2. I understand that accepted works may be posted immediately as submitted, unless I request otherwise.
3. If any materials to which I do not own the copyright are included in the work, I have a good faith belief that materials are cited or that I have obtained necessary permissions.

(By signing my name into the Author field I am agreeing to the terms above.. I understand that if I do not agree to these terms, I should not sign.)

Title of dissertation: Hope for Transformation: The metaphorical broken window that distinguishes ~~high~~^{high}-poverty, low-performing schools from high-poverty, high-performing schools
Author: Dr. Tania P. Coleman

Embargo Option:

(The author can choose to restrict electronic access to their work for up to three years from the date the work is submitted to XULA Digital Commons. When the embargo expires, their work will automatically become available.)

Length of Embargo: None

Keywords: (6 relevant words to describe the topic of the dissertation) high-poverty, high-performing; high-poverty, low-performing;

urban; high school; difference
